

COVID-19 & Current Training Courses

We are currently open and fulfilling our training commitments 😊

We accept that some organisations have decided not to continue with scheduled training due to their own company policies and these bookings will either be credited or deferred to a later date. We are a small team of three and monitor our health daily with temperature checks. At this stage we have not had any reason to concern ourselves re the virus and our training sessions are typically comprised of 8 or less people.

If you have any concerns about attending a training session here then please do not feel any pressure to attend, just let us know.
